“

ENGAGE IN ALL YOUR INTERESTS

Olivia Slyter '25 is majoring in communication studies and English writing, minoring in women's and gender studies, social activism, and film studies, and completing an internship.

“For most of my life, I’ve continuously felt like I could be doing more and that I wasn’t living out my passions and interests to the fullest extent,” she says. “The great thing about Concordia is the sheer number of academic programs and opportunities for students to pursue their passions in a unique and personalized way.”
