

All the Places You'll Go!

COLLEGE

Students who complete 4 or more years of language score higher on the SAT and other standardized tests - sometimes more than 100 points higher!

Bilinguals have better memory than those who don't speak another language.

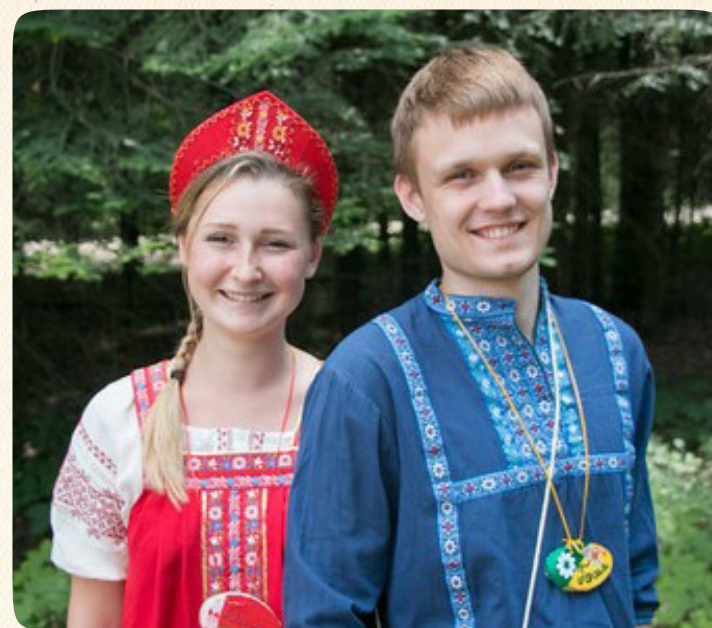

CAREER

Spanish is spoken in more than 22 countries worldwide. French, along with English, is taught in every country in the world. German has the most native speakers in Europe and is widely used in business and science. China is the United States' largest goods trading partner in the world; those who can conduct business in Chinese will have a leg up.

66% of companies would hire a bilingual candidate over a monolingual one.

Earn up to 20% more money than your monolingual friends!

TRAVEL AND STUDY ABROAD

Navigate the world and enjoy a deeper connection with the local culture and residents. Better appreciate what you're eating, bargain for lower prices and make new friends. And there are many scholarships available to help pay for your trip!

WORLDVIEW

Those who speak another language are better able to see the world from multiple perspectives and solve problems more creatively.

Where will language take you?