

Dear Sean,

Today, you can double the impact of your gift! George Halvorson '70 will be matching the next $10,000 raised for scholarships being awarded this fall.

When you invest in scholarships, you fuel the entrepreneurial spirit of Cobbers like Michael Crowder '29. Michael started his 3D printing business to help replace a broken piece on his dad's woodworking miter saw. Four years later, he sells additional parts online and has saved more than 700 saws from going to the scrapyard.

Michael Crowder '29

Hometown: Powers Lake, North Dakota

Major: Marketing

Minor: Entrepreneurship

Involvement on campus:
Track and field, Entrepreneurship Club, Cru, intramural basketball

Favorite study spot:
Offutt School of Business, second floor, overlooking 8th Street

Favorite food in Dining Services:
Bang Bang Shrimp

"Concordia has given me opportunities to think about my business at a higher level," Michael said. "Having access to mentors and being surrounded by other motivated students has pushed me to take my business more seriously and think long-term."

Support Cobbers Like Michael!

Supporting Cobber scholarships fuels the dreams of the next generation of innovators and entrepreneurs.

For Michael, Concordia is more than a place.

“Concordia is special to me because it is everything I dreamed that college could be. When I first stepped foot on campus as I was touring, it felt like home. It has given me incredible opportunities in track and field, my business, and my faith.”
